LOCAL DOCTORS ADVISE ON MEASLES

The prevention of measles is an exceedingly difficult matter because of the universal susceptibility, and because of the fact that the infection can be conveyed long before the rash has appeared and the case has been recognized.

The disease is transmitted by means of excretions of the mouth and nose. Measles in the pre-eruptive stages in most cases is very infectious and unless the suspicions of measles is aroused, most of the harm has been done.

The incubation after infection or when exposed is approximately two weeks. Second attacks have been noted with considerable frequency. Children of the same family who have not had the disease should be excluded from schools and an educational campaign among parents and other associates must be carried on.

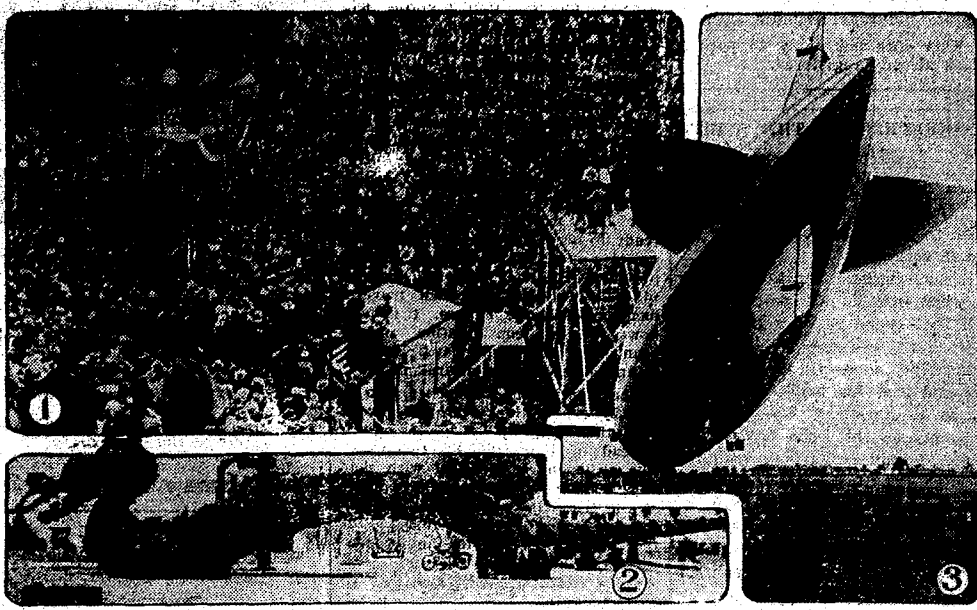

If a child or adult shows evidence of catarrhal inflammations of the nose and throat and there is headache and temperature of 99½ or over, the individual should be isolated. The quarantine period extends from the catarrhal symptoms to seven days after the appearance of the eruption; providing the eruption has disappeared and the child is otherwise well.

All cases must be reported to the doctor or health officer and failure to do so will mean prosecution. All children are requested to remain away from the movies, churches, and all public gatherings and the pernicious gathering among children until further notice.

THE TOP O' MICHIGAN POTATO AND APPLE SHOW OCT. 31-NOV. 1-2

The Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show is offering a premium list which again amounts to $1,600. Some of this money has been used to promote the various contests held in connection with this Show. The Essay Contest, which is open to Boys' and Girls' Club members and to students in vocational agriculture and home economics, offers $40.00 for the first four places. The grudging contest which is open to everyone attending the Show offers $80.00 and is divided into fourteen places. The apple pie baking contest, which is being held for the second time this year, offers prizes totaling $50.00. The potato paring contest offers $17.50 for ten places. The adult

TAKE NOTICE!

After consultation with the School Board and by instructions from the Board of Health, I beg each and all parents to assist us in keeping the children to home and not to allow them on the streets, or at any other gathering places.

ENROUTE TO ZAMBOANGA

Second of series of letters by Lieut. R. Emerson Bates, U. S. Army, written from the Philippines.

Aug. 10, 1928

DEAR ONES:

I certainly am enjoying life. This is the first absence from duty since I was in Michigan almost two years ago. This trip is for the purpose of giving officers of the Army here an idea of the Philippines other than around Manila. We get a month's detached service. So here I am doing duty aboard ship. Plenty of good food, good sleep, excellent bridge players and the most interesting sights make this trip one I will long remember. It is a lazy life as we are on board about twenty hours out of the twenty-four. Consequently we run around in sloppy clothes and bedroom slippers. It is terrible to admit but I haven't shaved for five days. However even though we look like beach combers, when we get ashore and see the natives, we look as if we were going to a dance compared to the people we see.

I believe I last wrote you from Ligan where we stopped to coal. At least I remember telling you of seeing and hearing Mt. Mayon the volcano. I don't remember the dates as that was over ten days ago, but I can remember the events well enough to tell you of the interesting things in the sequence in which they occurred. After coaling at Ligan on Batan island we went across the bay to Legaspi, a very neat, Americanized city of about 15,000. The main street paved and many American stores and remarkably free from the usual odors in these native towns. Four of us hired a car and made about a forty mile drive around the volcano. It was very misty and cloudy so our view of it was not very good. However the region thru which we passed, the Beool region, was exceptionally rich in hemp and tobacco, so we got a very good idea of some of the agricultural side of the islands in that territory at least. As I go a closer acquaintance with hemp production, I will tell you more about it before I finish. I know this will be a long letter as it just seems as if I am bubbling over with the many things I have seen and experienced.

Our next stop was Cebu. Before arriving there we made several small stops at highhouses. Mataboa island at the tip of Ticao island, Gigantes island in the middle of the Visayan sea and Montigonio island off the northeast coast of Panay.

The last day of July we arrived in Cebu and as we were there all day and until noon of the next we had a good opportunity to see the place. In fact it deserves considerable discussion as it is really a progressive wealthy city. Cebu is located in almost the center of the Philippine Archipelago and because of the central location it is the distributing center of the products of the islands of Cebu, Negros, Panay, Bahal, Leyte, Samar, Southern Luzon and northern Mindanao, a city of about 100,000. It counts nevertheless on the labor of these millions of people for the products it distributes. Warehouse on warehouse line the docks, filled with hemp, sugar and copra. It has a dock over half a mile long with another one under construction. The largest seagoing vessel can anchor at the main dock. The main streets are paved, the buildings in the business district are the equal of any American city the same size. In fact I could talk all day about Cebu, as there are great possibilities there for any white man with initiative and a little American capital.

You may remember from history how Magellan discovered the Philippines. Unfortunately the Philippines didn't like to be discovered evidently for Magellan was killed on the island of Macatan, just outside of Cebu. Magellan's Street, the main street of the town is named after him. A little chapel down by the waterfront commemorates the place where he had mass held, the first mass held in these islands.

TOO LATE TO BUILD HIGHWAY GARAGE

STATE TO FINANCE OWN NEXT SPRING

For several weeks there has been concerted effort on the part of the Board of Trade, the Village and county officials to try and induce the State Highway department to move its regional headquarters back to Grayling. The headquarters were moved from Grayling to Roscommon last spring because of some differences of opinion between the County Road commission and the State department.

The State Highway department has since maintained an interest in returning to Grayling but hoped to be able to construct a new, modern, fire-proof garage for their convenience. As no fund is available for that purpose at this time, some of our local citizens and officials have been active in arranging for the loan of $5,000 to the State, without interest, to be used for the construction of a garage. Esbern Hanson has offered a site free for that purpose. This is located across from the south end of the old Salling Hanson Co. mills. It is close to the Michigan Central railroad, has the best sewage system in the city, electricity, and in general is ideally located for the purpose of the Highway department.

Due to the lateness of the season State Highway Commissioner Frank F. Rogers feels that it would be unwise to begin such structure, and hopes that the State will be able to finance the plan without assistance and that they will return here next spring. Mr. Rogers' letter follows:

October 15, 1928

Crawford County Road Commission, Grayling, Michigan.

Gentlemen: This will acknowledge your letter of September 25th transmitting copy of a resolution passed by your Board under date of September 17th, 1928 as follows:

"Resolved by James F. Knibbs: 'Resolved that the County Treasurer be and the same is hereby authorized to set aside from the County Road Fund, payable at the Bank of Grayling a sum to cover interest on a loan of Five Thousand dollars for a period of nine months. Said sum of interest not to exceed the seven per cent rate and if possible a lower rate. The said stated principal of Five Thousand dollars to be loaned to the State Highway Department of Michigan for the purpose of assisting in the construction of a State garage in the Village of Grayling. Said sum of interest is set aside, providing however that the Village of Grayling reimburse the Crawford County Road Commission fifty per cent of said sum at the time the principal is made (Continued on last page)

LITTLE GIRL DROWNS IN AUSABLE RIVER

The community was quite shocked last Thursday evening by the news of the drowning of Mary May, three year old daughter of William Remer, in the Ausable river.

The little girl had been playing with two brothers in the back yard that lies along the Ausable river a few rods below the Greenhouse bridge, when she accidentally fell into the water. The swift current carried her quickly down the stream. The brothers at once notified the father who frantically ran to the river and started in pursuit but passed the daughter without seeing her. The current was swift and there was a glare upon the water which made it difficult to see well. Others also started searching. The girl was found by Russell Cripps and Charles Gierke who were in a boat. The clothing had snagged in a shallow place in the river, holding the body beneath the surface. This was a place about 100 feet below where the child had fallen in.

Immediate efforts were made for resuscitation but without success. The mother had died about three years ago and Mr. Remer says he had cared for her since then and, and feels the loss very heavily. It is a very sad misfortune and we are sure the people of Grayling deeply sympathize with the father and brothers Jimmy, Billy and sister Margaret, who survive.

The funeral was held Sunday from the home. Rev. Greenwood conducted the funeral service. Interment was at Elmwood cemetery.

"A good material that saved me money"

"That's what CELOTEX did, and here is how I figured it. First, I used CELOTEX for sheathing and got stronger insulated walls. This cost me less money than wood sheathing and building paper. Second, CELOTEX was used in place of lath, and the plaster bonds more securely on CELOTEX. It cost a trifle more, but I have paid dearly in the past for plaster patches and with CELOTEX I got a stronger sound deadened wall that will be free from lath marks. I was able to put in a smaller heating plant and less radiation because I used CELOTEX—so, you see, I saved three ways."

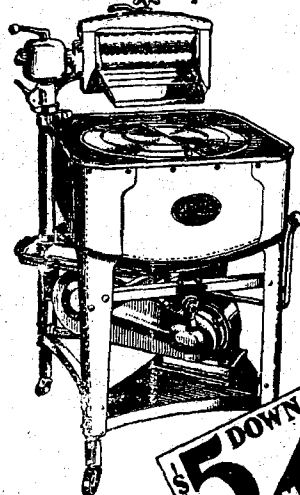

The story of what CELOTEX can do for you is merely suggested in this business man's remarks. Get the rest of it from us.

The musical comedy "Cupid-Up-To-Date" which was to be given by the Woman's Club, Oct. 23 and 24 has been cancelled owing to the measles epidemic. They have been fortunate in securing a January dating for this fine entertainment. The Club wishes to thank all those who have assisted in the advertising.

Four people were injured in an auto accident at the corner of State and Date streets on the South side Sunday afternoon, two of whom are still in the hospital. Mrs. Roy McEvers was the most seriously injured of all, receiving quite severe injuries to her head. Miss Eva Johnson of Frederic suffered a fractured and dislocated shoulder, while Mrs. McEvers' little son received a bad bruise on his head and her little niece the little McDaniel girl received some bad cuts on her face. However the children were taken home after their wounds were dressed at the hospital. The other car that figured in the accident was driven by an out of town party.

GREEN-DAUGHERTY

Mrs. Minnie Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds Sr. of this city was united in marriage to Mr. Jess Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Green of Roscommon at the latter place Tuesday evening. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clare Terrill and following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Green left on a honeymoon trip to Grand Rapids, Muskegon and other places and on their return will be at home in Roscommon.

The bride has lived in Grayling for a number of years. For some time she was employed as clerk in the Grayling Mercantile Co. store and later bought out Mrs. Ruth McConnell's beauty culture business, which she has operated most successfully since, enjoying a fine patronage.

The groom is the postmaster of the U. S. Postoffice in Roscommon. He is worshipful master of the Roscommon Masonic lodge and post commander of the American Legion post. Both are well known, and highly respected and have a large circle of friends in both Grayling and Roscommon, who extend best wishes and congratulations.

School Notes

(Written by the students of the English classes.)

Thursday morning everyone came to school wishing that school would be dismissed for the day, never dreaming that perhaps their wish would be granted. Because it was such a nice sunny day, everyone expected to work doubly as hard. Each went to class feeling as though he were being punished, but after the second hour, four bells were sounded and the students all filed into the assembly wondering what it was all about. Mr. Cushman announced that school was closed for the day. Hurrah! But of course it wasn't because the students wanted a vacation. Mr. Cushman made that clear. It was because the water supply had been shut off.

Four of our girls took advantage of the nice warm day and no school and hiked to the lake with their bathing suits flung over their backs and all had a swim. We wonder how the water was? They were: Jean Thorn, Lura Ensign, Wilma Burrows, and Viola Kennedy.

Two more of the girls could be seen horseback riding. They were Laura Sammons and Ellen King.

Our first Assembly Hour was held Friday from 9:30 to 10:15. Mr. Hill led us in several songs, following which an entertainment was put on by the faculty. Supt. Bogue and Mr. Cushman each gave us a little talk. Mr. Hill recited two poems and Miss Quackenbush delighted us with a fine musical number. We appreciated the program very much and wish to express our thanks and sincere gratitude for the splendid way in which they are endeavoring to improve our school and make things better and more pleasant for us. These programs are instructive as well as entertaining and tend to create a fine school spirit. They will be held once in every two weeks with a different class in charge each time. The seniors will put on the next one Thursday. One whole session is taken for the Assembly Hour and a different one will be chosen each time, so we will not always miss the same class.

Pupils were very happy to learn that there would be no school Thursday afternoon because of the water supply being shut off. Their spirits however were somewhat dampened by Mr. Cushman who said that exams were to be twice as hard as the teachers had planned on giving.

Six weeks' tests were completed Friday. This new practice was introduced this year and is causing quite a number of comments among students. The purpose of this test is to really find out how much each student has learned in the six weeks of school.

Students are looking forward to report cards. Somehow they have lost all hope of getting A's. I wonder what the reason is? I heard one girl say: "Oh if I get C2 I'll be satisfied. I don't want to get below a C though." This is the wrong idea entirely. Why get 2 in Citizenship when 1 is available?

Citizenship seems to be the chief topic among students. The new report cards have several requirements for good citizenship in school. Courtesy is one of them. I think courtesy is the easiest to win in. It doesn't cost anyone to pass a teacher and say "pardon me" or to have a smile for her than it does to pass her with a scowl and muttering ugly things under your breath. After all she is the one who shapes you for life after school. If it wasn't for her courageous teaching, her patience, and her ambition to make every single pupil something worth while—this would be a funny old world, both for teacher and pupils. So let's not scowl balefully at her just because you know her to be a teacher—forget that and think of her as a friend. It will help. Try it and see.

Last Friday at Assembly Mr. Cushman showed us our new report cards. They are in a book form about four by six inches. The front has the name of the school, a picture of the school and blanks for the pupil's name, grade and year, and the principal's signature on it. The next page is for marks. This year there will be no incompletes marked on a card. Instead there will be a nice "E" which is always so pleasing to a student's eye! Also no one will be excused from any exams. The third page on the card is devoted to "Method of Grading," and explains every mark very well. The fourth and last page holds a message to parents or guardians and a place for the parent to sign his name.

Student Council

Last Friday morning during the third period we held our first Assembly. Mr. Bogue presided. He introduced the motion to start a student council. Some of the main duties of the council will be the making of laws or rules concerning the grounds about the school, how the pupils should carry themselves in the building, and also the making of rules on how to enforce these. Such things as defacing the walls and grounds of the building and scattering paper about the assembly should be stopped, and the council will make laws to take care of all of these things.

One of the main ideas is to give the pupils a chance to take part in the government of the school, and to prepare them for the future life when some of these same people may be a high official in their own town or city or perhaps the national government. If this chance ever comes they will have some experience and will not go into such office not knowing what to do.

The pupils will also pay more attention to a rule if made by their fellow students than if made by members of the school board or teachers. By doing this we will have a better government in and about the school.

The Senior class held a meeting Friday night after school to nominate candidates for the student council. There are to be three members selected at large and one representative from each class. Those nominated by the seniors for council at large are Charles Wylie, Lewis Engel and Wm. Garner. Miss Ellen Speck was elected class representative.

The seniors will have a campaign rally Thursday and speeches will be given by the candidates.

Basket Ball Girls

The Basket Ball Girls are ordering new equipment which consists of a new style sweat shirt, shoes, and socks. The shirts are green and white, the two colors woven together which makes them very pretty. The shoes are like the original except that they are trimmed in green. The stockings worn last year were plain white, but the new ones are trimmed in green.

The girls think that these new items will look very nice with their former green and white suits.

Basket Ball

Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2 are the dates set for the boys interclass basketball tournament. Each class is expected to enter two teams. Every man participating in the tournament must have passing marks in three-fourths of his subjects.

As soon as the interclass basketball tournament is over Grayling High will settle down for steady practice in preparation for the first game which is only three weeks away.

The first game is between the Alumni and the high school. Last year the high school trimmed the Alumni 35-14, but this year the Alumni promises the local boys some stiff opposition. They have several old high school stars—Russell Robertson, Henry LaGrow, George Schroeder, Lacey and Norval Stephan, while the high school has five old men: Francis Brady, Charles Wylie, Elmer Neal, Elmer Fenton and Kendall Stinchcomb, also a lot of promising material out with the determination to make the team.

Notice Track Men!!!

Coach Cushman has some very promising material for his track team of next year. At present there are two very determined young men, "Billy" LaGrow and "Ken" Stinchcomb, practicing hard in hopes of wrestling "Curly" Neal's marathons walking crown from him. Mr. Neal won this crown at Petoskey last year. We understand that these young men make a practice of walking home from automobile rides—probably to keep in practice.

Falling List

There were many names on the falling list last week. Only 4% of the students should be failing. We find that 23.5% of the students are failing. This should be a warning to the students. Everyone should get to work and keep his name off the falling list.

Notice to Students

Particularly all high school students should try their skill at debating. I see no reason for not having seventh and eighth grade pupils at meetings.

A school our size ought to have at least twenty A and B students out for debating. It is just as important to have a debating team as a basketball team. Twenty-six report to basketball practice almost every night. I think it would be possible to have that many in debate meetings also. Girls! Boys! Let's have two teams instead of one.

Junior Spirit

The first of a series of assemblies to be given every two weeks during the school year, was given last week in the Assembly room. The Junior and Senior High attending. This is sort of an educational entertainment given every two weeks by the different grades. The first one, being given by the teachers. Mr. Bogue, Mr. Cushman, Mr. Hill and Miss Quackenbush, to give the students an idea of what is to be expected of them when their turn comes. Getting up before an audience of some two hundred pupils and teachers and giving his or her selection, will give the students some experience along this line, proving both as beneficial to himself as to his classmates. If each student does his part in his respective classes to make the program successful, the Assembly will prove to be a great benefit to Grayling high school.

Exams Over

If a stranger were to have walked into the Assembly room of Grayling High School any day last week he would have been surprised to see the studious attitude manifested by the majority of the student body and might have heard the most heartrending sighs issued therefrom. But if that same individual were to again visit school during this week he could not fail to notice the remarkable change in the pupils. And why this sudden change? Because the dreaded six weeks exams, that strike terror to the heart of every boy and girl, are over and those "martyrs of study" that have been poring over their books, trying to gain some much needed knowledge, are giving vent to their feelings by much celebration and joyousness. Can you blame them?

The American History class was discussing Bills and Acts.

Miss Estee: Now Donald, suppose you tell us what Acts came just after the Federal Reserve Bill and just before the Sherman Act?

Don K.—Between Acts 11

The Junior class are anxious to find out what Dorothy Hoessl finds so interesting in an old 1925 Alma year book. The last few days she has been deeply absorbed in it. Can you offer any solution to the question?

Due to the epidemic of measles the school has been closed for two weeks, hoping to get the epidemic under control.

The boy's Glee Club enjoyed a picnic at Beaver Island last Thursday. Mr. Hill was their guest.

Miss Hermann was ill Thursday and Friday of this week.

Miss Richards and Miss Van Dymne spent the week end at Mt. Pleasant and Alma.

Helen Woodburn has been absent from school owing to illness.

The orchestra has ordered new music for the dance after the basketball games.

Just what the seventh graders find to look at in the back of the assembly room no one can find out. Can't you please enlighten us?

More Excuses!

"Mr. Cushman, may I be excused? I've got to get my hair cut." Oh well, maybe some believe a poor excuse is better than none.

Come on seniors we've got to get that school championship in basket ball.

Our Junior Class

The Juniors form a merry circle. More than thirty warriors bold. May they hold the fort of learning. Like the gallant knights of old.

Then when the enemy attacks them. Tries to keep them from their rights. It would be well that all remember. That each student is a knight.

May they keep the laws of knight hood. Deeds of valor may they do. So that when our senior year beckons. There'll be nothing then to rue.

So let us rally 'round the standard. O'er our heads our banner reign. And I'm sure we'll win the victory. And the fruits of battle gain.

—Elle Hunter.

We very much appreciate your kind offer of arranging for financing the construction of a garage for the State Highway Department until such time as our funds would permit us to pay for this garage. We feel however that it would be inadvisable for the Department to start the construction of a garage at this late period of the year, as we would anticipate considerable difficulty in getting it completed prior to winter. We have had one experience in another section of the state in starting garage construction late in the fall and have found that it was much more expensive and unsatisfactory than to do this building work earlier in the season when weather conditions were much more suitable.

In view of these conditions we wish to state that we are communicating with Mr. Esbern Hanson who has very kindly offered to furnish lot No. 1, block No. 4 of Martha M. Brink's addition to Grayling, without charge to the Department for this purpose, and will make definite arrangements to accept this offer and to construct this building during the early part of next summer. We believe that we will be able to finance the construction of this building next year without taking advantage of your arrangement for a loan.

Yours truly,
FRANK F. ROGERS,
State Highway Commissioner.

How About You?

"I go to church because I would not care to live in a city, a state or a nation in which there were no churches and no churchgoers. I would rather have churchgoers for neighbors than non-churchgoers. I have never lost faith in the purpose of the church, nor in its ministry as a body. Furthermore, I believe in the people who support the church. I have only sympathy for the members of the ministry. There is the toughest job I know, bar none. I go because I want my children to go to church. I WANT THEM TO KNOW SOMETHING MORE OF THIS LIFE THAN BUSINESS, SPORT AND AMUSEMENT. I know only one institution that will teach them that they are divine."—Edgar A. Guest.

Helping The Dollars Roll In For Hoover

When Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson took office as Chairman of the Wayne County Committee of the Hoover-Curtis Legion, Frank W. Blair, Chairman of the Michigan Finance Committee of the Republican National Committee, and Claude S. Briggs, Chairman of the Michigan Committee for the Legion, were present. Miss Mae Stuart, a stenographer, made the first contribution to Mrs. Wilson for the Legion. Mr. Blair is on the left and Claude S. Briggs and Miss Stuart on the right. From the first day, dollars began to roll in to the Legion fund, and Mrs. Wilson is confident of having Wayne County's quota more than subscribed in short order. The photograph was taken in Mrs. Wilson's office, 1718 Buhi Building, which are headquarters for the Committee.
